

A note about Jewelry Show Cancellations:

Let's Face it, It Happens!!!

I'm really excited for your Premier Designs Jewelry show! I realize that occasionally a Hostess will book a show and then have to cancel for various reasons.

That's OK, I understand! It's called life and it gets in the way of our fun sometimes!! Some people think it's no big deal to cancel because "it's just a party", but to me it's my full time job and how I provide for my family financially.

So remember when you book your show, you are securing a night on my calendar that others cannot book. Plus I am looking forward to working with you...and I love to work!

Bottom line? I understand you might have to cancel, but rescheduling right away is key, which in turn leads to a successful Jewelry Show and free jewelry for you!!

Tips on rescheduling:

- Try to reschedule your show within the same month (or 30 day time frame) as your original show.
- Try to give me 2-3 weeks notice when possible. This allows me fill in that date with someone on my waiting list.
- If you have to cancel at the last minute, have a tentative date in mind to reschedule when you call.

As my Hostess, you are the most vital part of my business and very important to me!! I really do appreciate the fact that you allow me into your home to show my beautiful jewelry. Premier Designs recognizes this as well, which is why you are rewarded for keeping your original date!! Thank you so much!!

Appreciatively!
